

Bo Xiong

<http://scholar.google.com/citations?user=CjkfXLgAAAAJ&hl=en>

Contact

E-mail: bonapartexiongbo@gmail.com

Employment

- Senior Research Analyst, State of California 05/2015—present
- Postdoc Scholar, University of California Agricultural Issues Center 06/2012—04/2015
  - External Economic Consultant, Sidley-Austin LLP 06/2014—12/2014

Education

- Ph.D. in Economics, Iowa State University 07/2007—05/2012
- B.A. in Economics and B.S. in Mathematics, Wuhan Univ., China 09/2002—06/2006

Research Expertise

- Agricultural Trade, Food Safety, Regional Trade Agreements, Quantitative Policy Analysis, Big Data and Dietary Trend

Journal Articles

- Bo Xiong. “The impact of TPP and RCEP on tea exports from Vietnam: The case of tariff elimination and pesticide policy cooperation”, forthcoming in Agricultural Economics.
- Bo Xiong. “Food Import and Food Safety in Europe: The Role of Aflatoxins in Pistachios”, forthcoming in the International Food and Agribusiness Management Review.
- Bo Xiong and John C. Beghin. (2014). “Disentangling the Demand-enhancing Effect and Trade-cost Effect of Maximum Residue Regulations.” Economic Inquiry 52(3): 1190-1203
- Bo Xiong, Daniel Sumner, and William Matthews. (2014). “A New Market for an Old Food: The U.S. Demand for Olive Oil.” Agricultural Economics 45: 107-118.
  - The third most influential paper published with Agricultural Economics, according to Altmetric <http://wiley.altmetric.com/details/2607833>
  - Washington Post coverage at <http://www.washingtonpost.com/news/wonkblog/wp/2015/09/23/its-time-to-end-the-tyranny-of-olive-oil/>

- Quartz coverage at <http://qz.com/256888/the-coming-rise-of-pure-premium-american-olive-oil/>
- Bo Xiong and Sixia Chen. (2014). “Estimating Gravity Equation Models in the Presence of Sample Selection and Heteroskedasticity?” Applied Economics 46(24): 2993-3003.
- Bo Xiong and John C. Beghin. (2012). “Does European Aflatoxin Regulation Hurt Groundnut Exporters from Africa?” European Review of Agricultural Economics 39 (4): 589-609.

Book Chapters

- John C. Beghin and Bo Xiong. (2016). “Quantifying Standard-Like NonTariff Measures and Assessing their Trade and Welfare Effects,” chapter forthcoming in the serial publication of the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development.
- Bo Xiong, Yuan Li, and John Beghin. (2016). “The Political Economy of Food Standard Determination: International Evidence from Maximum Residue Limits,” Beghin, J.C., Ed. Non-Tariff Measures and International Trade. World Scientific and Imperial College Press.
- Bo Xiong and John C. Beghin. (2013). “Stringent Maximum Residue Limits, Protectionism, and Competitiveness: The Cases of the US and Canada,” Beghin, J.C., Ed. Non-Tariff Measures with Market Imperfections: Trade and Welfare Implications. Frontiers of Economics and Globalization series of Emerald Press

Working Papers

- Bo Xiong, Fujin Yi, and Yaling Li. “What do China’s rising meat demand and industrialization of the livestock sector mean for its vegetable oil market?”
  - Resubmitted to China Agricultural Economics Review
- Bo Xiong. “Do RMB swap agreements promote exports to China?”
  - Under review with China Economic Review
- Bo Xiong. “U.S. punitive tariffs on tire imports from China reduce natural rubber exports out of South-East Asia”
  - Under review with Journal of the Asia Pacific Economy
- Bo Xiong. “Agricultural import diversification: Measurement, decomposition, and the relation to economic development”
  - Under review with International Economics
- Bo Xiong, John Beghin, and Stéphan Marette. “Gains to French Champagne Makers

- from Tariff Liberalization”
  - Under review with Review of World Economics
- Bo Xiong and John Beghin. “TTIP and agricultural trade: The case of tariff elimination and pesticide policy cooperation”
  - Selected paper at the AAEA Annual Meeting, Boston, August 2016

Research Grant

- The impact of Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership on agriculture, with John Beghin, David Orden, Christophe Bureau, and Alexandre Gohin, National Institute of Food and Agriculture (2014-2016)

Teaching Experience

- Instructor for Econ 101 (Principle of Microeconomics)
  - Student evaluation: 4.29/5.00 (Summer 2011); 3.13/5.00 (Summer 2010)
- Guest lecturer for Econ 642 (Agricultural Economics, Ph.D. field course), Spring 2010
- Recitation Leader for Econ 301 (Intermediate Microeconomics), Fall 2008
- Economics Help Room Coordinator (Departmental Head TA), Fall 2008- May 2012

Peer-review Services

- Reviewer for the American Journal of Agricultural Economics, World Economy, Agricultural Economics, European Review of Agricultural Economics, British Food Journal, Review of World Economics, Journal of African Economies, Journal of Agricultural and Applied Economics, and International Economics
- Reviewer of the World Trade Report 2012, the World Trade Organization
- Abstract reviewer and topic leader for the international trade sessions of the annual meetings of Agricultural and Applied Economics Association

Awards

- Print and Grace Powers Hudson Scholarship in Agriculture, Iowa State University
- Iowa State University Teaching Excellence Award

References

Professor Daniel Sumner
UC-Davis
(530) 752-1668
dasumner@ucdavis.edu

Professor John Beghin
Iowa State University
(515) 294-5811
beghin@iastate.edu

Professor John Schroeter
Iowa State University
(515) 294-5876
johns@iastate.edu